

WANO – THE NEW PARTS DESTINATION FOR JAPANESE AND ASIAN COMMERCIAL VEHICLES

At last, One call - One search - Get your part - Get back on the road.

July 2021 - WANO is the new name that commercial vehicle and light truck owners and operators need to know when chasing crucial, high quality, guaranteed fit parts that keep the fleet on the road.

WANO absorbs the expertise and vast commercial vehicle parts sourcing capabilities of HIM Spares, Don Kyatt Queensland, He Knows Truck Parts, I Know Parts, Japanese Trucks Australia, Japanese Commercial Spares and Truck Parts Dubbo. These outstanding businesses now combine into one as WANO, combining more than half a century of industry experience supported by the automotive aftermarket resources and customer service capabilities of the Bapcor Group.

All of the highly specialised businesses that form WANO have a strong heritage and proven track record in the rapid sourcing and fast supply of quality Japanese and Asian commercial vehicle parts. Now together as the one national and highly specialised commercial vehicle parts provider. This one stop national parts destination provides Australia's most comprehensive range of parts to suit Japanese and Asian commercial vehicle makes and models.

In-house workshops, external service agents, panel shops, cooling system specialists, auto electricians and tuners for commercial vehicles - one speed dial call to 1300 595 944 connects them to a highly experienced parts interpreter and over 70,000 SKU lines across 15 locations, with more on the way.

Driveline, body, suspension, chassis, electrics, cooling, lubrication, consumables. If it's not in stock, WANO will source the part directly to minimise an operator's down time.

One call connects to the supply chains of seven of the biggest independent suppliers of Japanese and Asian commercial vehicles. Operators of Isuzu, Hino, Fuso, UD, Toyota, Nissan and LDV in light commercial classes are all covered.

Independent servicing workshops can forget the 15 to 30 minute phone chase around for a single part that's holding up the job. A single contact now links commercial vehicle owners and operators to Australia's largest resource of aftermarket parts for commercial vehicles in the crucial last-mile logistics sector including couriers, delivery drivers, buses and charters.

WANO's in-store, online (www.wano.com.au) or over the phone service backed by industry leading and constantly updated commercial vehicle parts cataloguing also helps to keep Australia's commercial vehicle fleet on the move.

According to Mathew Cooper, Executive General Manager of Bapcor Mechanical, WANO represents the beginning of a new and exciting chapter in Australia's commercial vehicle parts business.

“Combining more than a half century of expertise and premium quality parts sourcing for Australia’s constantly growing Japanese and Asian commercial vehicle sector, WANO brings a new level of stockholding, customer service and convenience to this important automotive aftermarket sector through this new and unique national brand,” Mr Cooper stated.

“In seeking to provide the best possible customer service and value to as many repairers as possible, we plan to extend the WANO store national footprint to reach 40 stores by 2025 to meet the demand of this growing automotive aftermarket sector,” He added.

WANO is the new name representing Australia’s unrivalled leaders in Japanese and Asian commercial vehicle parts, locate your closest store by calling 1300 59 59 44 or visit WANO online at www.wano.com.au.
